The flour inspection bill was taken up, Mr. Coghill baving the floor. With regard to the argument of Mr. Thomas, of Fairfix, that the law, as it stands, des not admit of a larger hole being bored in the barrel than half an inch in diameter, he cited the opinion of England and Brittan, experts, to show that to make an inspection, brough a hole of that diameter, was simply impossible. He produced a telegraphic dispatch from Alexandria, sent by the inspector there, stating that he used an augue "a scant inch" in diameter, and a trier 4 of an inch in diameter. He assumed that 7 ounces was the average quantity of flour drawn by the inspector from each barrel. He urged the passage of the bill without the amendment. Mr. Armstrong moved that the bill be referred back to the committee on agriculture and commerce. The motion was defeated-ayes 16, pays 21. Mr. Claiberne opposed taking flour from the barrels of millers and appropriating it to inspectors, as against the constitution. The question then came up on the amendment offered by Ambler, requiring the inspector to weigh the flour taken from barreis, when it is desired by the parties interested. The amendment was rejected-ayes 10, nays 24. Mr. Ambier then moved to amend the bill so as to prohibit the inspector from retaining more than 4 ounces of flour per barrel. Mr. Thomas offered an amendment to the amendment, so as to confine its operations to the city of Richmond.

Mr. Thomas' amendment was defeated .-Mr. Ambier's amendment was then defeated ayes 12, nays 21. Mr. Ambler offered an amendment, providing that the compensation of no inspector office shall exceed $3 000, and any amount treasury. This amendment was adopted-

Mr. Armstrong offered an amendment providing that the inspectors shall only insert the trier once in each barrel. The amendment was defeated—ayes 14, pays 21.

The bill was then laid on the table. On motion, the Senate adjourned.
